Introduction

It is a condition of all awards from the Northern Rock Foundation that you acknowledge our grant on all promotional material. We require this for two reasons:

- to let members of the public know of the Foundation's support and
- to promote the Foundation to people and organisations who could be eligible for an award.

Where you should use the logo

The Northern Rock Foundation logo should be used to acknowledge an award in books, brochures, catalogues, CDs, films, flyers, records, reports, newspaper advertisements, pamphlets, tapes and on the web.

How to use the logo

When you are producing promotional materials please use the Northern Rock Foundation logo as specified and illustrated opposite.

Size, proportion and arrangement

The logo can be enlarged but must never be used smaller than the minimum reproduction size specified opposite. It should not be distorted or rearranged in any way.

Minimum size and colour specification
